

Commissioned training

Cost-effective training, tailored to meet your organisational needs

The Royal College of Physicians (RCP) delivers high-quality professional development programmes for doctors and the wider healthcare workforce across the UK and internationally.

We offer partnerships to suit you and your organisational needs – choose from:

- > ready-to-deliver workshops delivered exclusively for your organisation
- > bespoke programmes created for you, designed around your objectives and budget
- > bulk-booking places across our established and published training schedule.

Career-long learning

Our professional development portfolio is designed to equip doctors with the skills, knowledge and confidence to excel throughout their careers. Our workshops include:

- > teach the teacher
- > medical education
- > appraisal and assessment
- > leadership and management
- > supervision – educational and clinical
- > mentoring
- > communication skills
- > new consultant
- > clinical director
- > SAS development.

Our existing professional development portfolio is available on the RCP website.

Why choose the RCP?

- > Trusted provider of world-class professional development
- > Expert faculty, including senior doctors currently working in the NHS
- > CPD accreditation and RCP accreditation(s)
- > Tailored solutions for doctors and multiprofessional teams
- > Flexible delivery, from 1-day workshops to multi-day programmes
- > Cost-effective, high-impact education
- > Optional residential, networking and mentoring
- > Professional event management service saving you time and resource

Developed by doctors for doctors and the wider multiprofessional team

Our programmes are designed and delivered in partnership with senior clinicians who work in hospitals throughout the UK. This ensures that our courses remain relevant and respond to the changing needs of the clinical workforce, facilitating high-quality patient-centred care.

We welcome the opportunity to work with you to identify training solutions that meet your organisational needs.

To discuss your requirements, please contact the Professional Development team by email or telephone, or submit an enquiry through our online form.

Professional Development
Royal College of Physicians

Email: education@rcp.ac.uk
Call: 020 3075 1555

Royal College of Physicians