

UK commissioned programmes

We can deliver training at your hospital, trust or deanery on a date convenient to you and your doctors. The RCP's in-house workshops are a cost-effective way to deliver training tailored to the specific needs of you and your doctors, on a date that suits you and at a venue of your choice.

Our range of workshop can be delivered to any doctor of any specialty or grade, including tailored training for SAS groups. All workshops are CPD accredited and we can provide full event administration support.

Our workshops are delivered over one or two days by experienced consultants and expert medical educationalists and cover topics including

- Teaching
- Assessment
- Leadership
- Supervision
- Appraisal
- Mentoring
- Communication
- Quality Improvement
- Navigating the CESR route

Some examples of work we have delivered:

We have been commissioned by NHS North West to deliver supervisor and educator training for their SAS doctors.

We have been commissioned by NHS Highland to deliver leadership training for their doctors. This has included a tailored leadership package to support the needs of their consultant doctors

We have a long-standing partnership with Papworth hospital to deliver training for their doctors. This has included supervision, appraisal and human factors training

The main areas are in medical education and leadership for commissioning but we can design bespoke education programmes – however there are extra design costs associated

We have recently been commissioned by a corporate veterinary group to design them some teaching skills courses for their staff.

We have been commissioned by UKKA, BASEM and GIRFT Stroke to deliver bespoke leadership programmes – find out more.
